ISN'T IT GRAND?

Check in, and check out, The Davenport Grand Hotel

When you already have the shining star in the city, how do you outshine it with your newest endeavor? You don't. You simply amaze everyone in a different way. That is exactly what Walt and Karen Worthy faced – and did – when it came to adding yet another incredible property to their portfolio of hotels. As owners of the city's gem, The Davenport Hotel, they had already crossed “build the city's most elegant and beloved hotel” off their to-do list. They had also checked off “build a jungle themed hotel exuding exotic style,” “revamp an intimate boutique hotel” and “open the it pub in downtown.” Makes you wonder what could be left to do? Well, on June 17th, they are checking one more item off their to-do list – “open a sophisticated and urban convention hotel” – with the opening of The Davenport Grand Hotel.

Situated on the corner of Spokane Falls Boulevard and Washington Street, the area's new convention hotel will connect to Spokane's new convention center, and will offer an 18,000 square foot ballroom, 63,177 square feet of state of the art meeting space and amenities, as well as 716 rooms.

As with all of the hotels in the Davenport collection, The Davenport Grand Hotel offers a distinct style with attention to detail. Taking a detour from the rich wood elegance of the Historic Davenport and the marble and travertine gleam of the Davenport Towers, The Davenport Grand Hotel embraces a sophisticated modern look, with clean lines, smooth surfaces and vibrant colors. The end result? There is a Davenport hotel for everyone, depending on your needs, style and interests.

Rooms at The Davenport Grand Hotel will be available beginning June 17th, just in time for the summer season. So, go ahead and book your room because, even though you live in town, we know you'll want to stay a night. After all, it's on your to-do list.
